The workshop will provide information on Andean ritual and cosmology, as well as on the practice of Incan tradition as a powerful spiritual path. We will create a despacaho fire offering building and learn about the Andean medicine body or mesa. In addition, we will call sacred space with pachamama (mother earth) and the apus mountains experientially through meditation. The workshops will provide a combination of didactic and experiential work.

Deborah Bryon, Ph.D. is a clinical psychologist and senior Jungian Analyst in Denver, CO. She is also an artist member of Spark Gallery. Deborah has written books on the Inca Shamans, receives ongoing in-depth training with Q'ero shamans in Peru and has undergone a series of sacred initiations with them.
